Welcome Back to LES! Mad Lib

The day is finally here! LES is back open for business! I was _(verb)-_ ing from ear to ear as I got out of the _(vehicle)_ , and who was the first person I saw? Why it was my good friend _(person's name)_ . They were talking to Phyllis alongside the ramp. "_(Adjective)_ morning," I said to them both. "Great to see you again!" Phyllis declared. She helped me inside where I could smell _(noun)_ boiling away in the crock pot. It made me _(verb)_ . It must be Soup Day to welcome us all back.

It was a _(adjective)_ day outside, so I decided to go back out. Some more of my friends were already outside playing _(game)_ . I went over to (person's name) and _(person's name)_ and asked if I could join in. "Sure!"

they said. We played for _(number)_ hours until, before we knew it, it was (time of day) already. "Soup's on!" Lewis sang as he placed the entire pot of soup on the picnic table outside. He ladled it into bowls for us to (verb) along with the lunches we brought. I _(verb)_ -ed. It's great to be back at LES!
